

HURLEY KILLING UNLAWFUL SAYS CORONER'S JURY

Federal Prohibition Agents are Blamed for Slaying of Saloonkeeper in Liquor Raid

MAJOR DALRYMPLE QUILTS AS DRY ENFORCEMENT DIRECTOR

Announcement of Resignation Made at Central District Headquarters

That John Chapuis, Hurley, Wis., saloon keeper, was "unlawfully killed by gun shots fired by federal officers acting under the supervision of Group Chief Leo J. Grove, J. T. Beron, Victor J. Dowd, William Kneer, Arthur Q. Scully and Jay R. Sweeney, whom we believe to be guilty thereof," was the verdict of a coroner's jury at Hurley late Tuesday afternoon.

Chapuis was shot and fatally wounded about fifteen miles south of Hurley on the night of October 9, while he was hauling a truck load of whiskey. He died twenty-four hours later. In an ante-mortem statement, he is said to have confessed hauling the whiskey from Milwaukee.

Appeal to Philipp
Following the return of the verdict, Attorney Marion P. Reed announced he would take up the shooting with Governor Philipp at Madison and ask the state authorities for cessation before he attempted any further action. He has prepared testimony and affidavits to take to the governor and is expected to request the state executive to procure requisition for the federal men mentioned in the verdict. The majority of them are said to be in Michigan.

Dalrymple Resigns
Major A. V. Dalrymple, prohibition enforcement officer in the central district, has presented his resignation at Washington. It was announced at the federal building Wednesday.

Major Dalrymple is reported to have left for Washington to urge appointment of Frank D. Richardson, special agent of the department of justice as his successor.

Major Dalrymple, who took office January 10, when constitutional prohibition became effective, has repeatedly been under fire since early in his regime, when he announced a "dry" rebellion had broken out in a town, Michigan, and led a party of prohibition agents to the scene to put down the "outbreak."

Removals have been current for months that he had resigned or would resign but each time were denied. His tenure includes Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Tells Secrets of Ring
Richardson was called to the office of Charles A. Chase, district attorney, Milwaukee, to be interviewed. Chase, who had been interviewed by "Mike de Pike" Butler who is reported to have secured the workings of the whiskey following his last night. The district attorney's office announced the confession named police of the prohibition agents, who are said to have been involved in three big whiskey deals recently. Others whose names were linked with the liquor ring included a well-known lawyer, a saloonkeeper and the proprietor of a gambling house.

One of the three big liquor deals, in which Chase is understood to be involved, is understood to be the recent theft of $175,000 worth of liquor from saloonkeepers who had pooled their money for the purpose of buying a large quantity of liquor. Two of the victims swore out warrants for Butler and charged he had kidnapped the pool and then had sent the liquor back as it was being delivered.

Many Officials Involved
Butler's alleged confession was said to have made sensational disclosures, and obtained the activities of federal officials throughout the country, state officials, mayors of small towns and Chicago police officers and federal agents. He said he was ready to tell all he knew and that he knew all about the "whiskey ring."

"There is now a lot of them out there," he said. "Butler was reported to have said: 'Anybody can get blank removal permits and fill them in. They do this by paying money for the blanks and when the forged blanks were taken to the warehouse more money was paid.'"

There were railroad agents, shipping clerks, deputy sheriffs, small town officials, prohibition agents, and city policemen to be taken care of. All of them had means of learning about booze shipments and all of them "wanted in" and most of them always got in. I have seen as many as twelve officers grab money for one truck load of 100 cases of whiskey.

"I know that money has been taken down to the prohibition offices and that there was never a hitch in the shipments. I'm willing to help catch all the double-crossers, but I'm not implicated."

"Mike de Pike" served twenty-two months in the federal prison at Leavenworth for white slavery. He has been a figure in Chicago's underworld for many years.

LA FOLLETTE TO SPEAK IN LA CROSSE SATURDAY ON ISSUES OF CAMPAIGN

SENATOR Robert M. La Follette will speak in La Crosse on Saturday evening, on the issues of the campaign. Word was received to this effect today by officers of the Citizens' Co-Operative League, who some time ago invited the senator to speak in this city. The senator's appearance here at that time, however, was made impossible by the necessity of his operation at Rochester, Minn.

Senator La Follette will speak at the La Crosse theater. According to word from his Madison headquarters, delegations will be organized from the communities around La Crosse to attend the La Crosse meeting.

RAYMOND ROBBINS SPEAKS AT PIONEER HALL ON THURSDAY

Illinois Orator to Make Address on National Issues for Republican Committee

La Crosse will have another big republican speaker here during the pending campaign, Raymond Robbins of Illinois, who, according to an announcement made today by Clarence J. Weber, secretary of the La Crosse county republican committee, will address a republican meeting for women and men at Pioneer hall, Fifth and Market streets, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Robbins is one of the best speakers now touring the country, under the auspices of the republican national committee, and he has a message, which according to reports coming from various cities in the fifteen states in which he has spoken for the republican ticket during the present campaign, is well worth hearing.

He is one of the leaders in the progressive republican ranks and for years has made a careful study of political and social questions. At one time candidate for the United States senate in Illinois, and having engaged in many previous campaigns, Mr. Robbins is well qualified to discuss the issues of the present campaign, and those who have heard him are enthusiastic in their statements that La Crosse is indeed to be congratulated upon securing a speaker of his caliber.

Sentor New announced he would ignore the challenge.

DECLARES SENIOR PREFERS COX TO LENROOT SUCCESS

Junior Senator Assails La Follette at Beaver Dam for Failure to Support Harding

BEAVER DAM, Wis.—Senator Lenroot greeted Senator La Follette's refusal to accept the challenge to a joint debate on the charges the latter has been making against Lenroot in the campaign with the following comment: "The incident appears to be closed," said Senator Lenroot when he was informed of La Follette's decision. "The people of Wisconsin now know that whatever Senator La Follette may say about the issues of the campaign, he is not willing to say it in my presence before an audience anywhere in Wisconsin."

Attacks Bob's Party Stand
Lenroot's speech at Beaver Dam Tuesday night was an attack on his colleague's position as regards republican success in the national elections. "Why does not La Follette come out for Harding?" was one of his broadsides.

"The issue is Harding and Coolidge or Cox and Roosevelt," he said. "Where does La Follette stand?" He charged that La Follette is doing everything in his power in an indirect way to elect Governor Cox president, because he can not support Harding and at the same time attacks a republican nominee for senator who has Harding's unqualified endorsement.

In Hatred, He Says
Mr. Lenroot charged that La Follette would rather have Cox president and Wilson's league of nations ratified, than have a man claiming to be a republican who will not support Harding in this national crisis is not worthy of the confidence of republicans, and that he will not be led by him.

"La Follette claims that the treaty as proposed by President Wilson would involve the United States in a war and compel us to send our soldiers to fight and die in wars in every quarter of the globe," said Mr. Lenroot. "He is doing everything in his power in an indirect way to elect Cox, who stands where Wilson does. He attacks Harding, and as his influence is largely with republicans, the effect is to assist Cox."

Cox With Wilson
"This is the supreme issue in this campaign, Senator Harding, the republican nominee, is against this. So is the democratic nominee, Gov. Cox. The democratic nominee is for the league, as proposed by Wilson."

"If La Follette were sincere, would he not then assist in the election of Harding? Would he not use his influence for Harding and against Cox?" "What is he doing? He is doing everything in his power in an indirect way to elect Cox, who stands where Wilson does. He attacks Harding, and as his influence is largely with republicans, the effect is to assist Cox."

"Why does not La Follette come out for Harding? It is because he knows he could not support Harding and at the same time attack me, for I voted as Harding did on the treaty in the senate, and I stand with Harding now."

His means but one thing, La Follette, to defeat me, would spread by and see the sacrifice of the independence of the United States, would rather have a man claiming to be a republican who will not support Harding in this national crisis is not worthy of the confidence of republicans, and that he will not be led by him.

THREATEN TO AVENGE DEATH OF MACSWINEY

Patriots in London Will See Debt of Government is Paid Says Deputy Mayor of Cork

DEATH DUE TO HEART FAILURE VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY

Widow of Dead Hunger Striker Only Witness at the Inquest

LONDON.—The Evening News Wednesday prints the following statement which it says was made by the deputy lord mayor of Cork: "We are leaving behind us in our capital many of our patriots who will see that the debt of your government is fully paid. The English government may think they have stifled us, but there will be reprisals, and so on."

A London dispatch Tuesday said a deputation of twenty-one members of the corporation of Cork, headed by Deputy Mayor O'Callaghan, had arrived that morning to attend the London services for the late Lord Mayor MacSwiney and accompany the funeral party to Cork.

Hold Inquest
A jury of ten men, after twelve minutes deliberation Wednesday, returned an open verdict at inquest over the body of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, who died Monday from the results of his seventy-three day hunger strike.

The verdict was that the deceased had died from heart failure, due to a dilated heart, and acute delirium following severe distress due to exhaustion from prolonged refusal to take food.

The widowed lady mayor was the only witness for the MacSwiney family.

She successfully resisted attempts to characterize her late husband's occupation otherwise than as "a volunteer officer of the Irish republican army."

The inquest was attended by 35 persons besides the coroner and jury. These included Mrs. MacSwiney, the dead lord mayor's brother Sean (John), his sisters Annie and Mary, his private chaplain, Father Dominic, the lord mayor's secretary, the town clerk and the city solicitor of Cork, representatives of Irish civic and political organizations, and home office and other British government officials.

Warn Against Demonstration
CORK.—By The Associated Press.—Outside of the Cork city hall there was posted Tuesday the following notice: "The second republican lord mayor of Cork lies, as lay his predecessor, murdered by the British government. Cork is in mourning. Citizens, or any section of them, will take only authorized action. Orders will be issued by proper authorities."

Today passed quietly, with the exception of a slight stir caused by military raids on banks in search of firearms placed in vaults for safe-keeping.

The body of Joseph Murphy, one of the hunger strikers in Cork jail, who died Monday night has been removed to a church from which the funeral will be held Wednesday. With the exception of Kennedy and Donovan, who are believed to be rapidly nearing death, doctors say there still is a chance of saving the lives of the remaining hunger strikers if they are released.

CONSTANTINE WON'T SURRENDER CLAIM TO THRONE IS BELIEF

Maintains He is King of Greece Says a Dispatch from Lucerne

LONDON.—Former King Constantine of Greece appears to maintain the attitude that he is the occupant of the Greek throne, says a dispatch to the London Times from Lucerne. For this reason, it is uncertain whether he will consent to the accession of his son, Prince Paul, who is better known to the inhabitants of Lucerne as an excellent dancer than a student of international politics, the dispatch asserts.

It is understood no formal invitation to accept the throne has been received from Athens by Prince Paul.

END OF BRITISH COAL STRIKE IN SIGHT GROWERS "STRIKING" FOR THREE DOLLAR WHEAT IS REPORT FROM THE WEST

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Grain operators, market officials and state boards of agriculture throughout the southwest are watching closely for the effects of a reported "strike" of wheat raisers, who, it was said, were refusing to ship their product to terminal markets until a basic price of $3 a bushel was realized.

"The strike," called recently by the national wheat growers' association in a proclamation urging members to withhold their wheat from market until the price of $3, was obtained, was declared by W. H. McGreevey, Wichita, Kas., secretary of the organization, to be in full force.

Mr. McGreevey asserted the association membership of 70,000 was unanimous in its intention not to sell and predicted the desired price would be realized within ninety days.

J. C. Mohler of Topeka, secretary of the Kansas state board of agriculture, on the other hand, was emphatic in asserting that there was no such "strike" in Kansas, and his view was being upheld by many grain men who asserted that reported falling off in deliveries at some terminal markets might be attributed to several causes.

ONLY ONE WAY TO GUARANTEE PEACE DECLARES WILSON

Make it too Dangerous for Nations to Attempt War, Urges President

RECEIVES DELEGATION OF PRO-LEAGUE REPUBLICANS

Wilson Shows Effect of Illness and Strain Says Statement

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson, speaking to a group of pro-league republicans today at the white house, declared that "what so-called Americanism which we hear so much prating about now is spurious and invented for party purposes only."

Appealing for the completion of the "great moral achievement," which he said the war represented, the president asserted that "the war will have been fought in vain and our immense sacrifices thrown away unless we complete the work we then began."

"There is only one way to assure the world of peace," the president declared, "and that is by making it so dangerous to break the peace that no other nation will have the audacity to attempt it."

The president warned his hearers not to be deceived into supposing that imperialistic schemes ended with the defeat of Germany or "that Germany is the only nation that entertained such schemes or was moved by sinister ambitions and long standing jealousies to attack the very structure of civilization."

Shows Effect of Strain
In a formal statement issued after they left the white house, members of the delegation said they were "deeply touched by the physical appearance of the president who received them sitting and plainly showed the effects of his long illness and the tremendous strain which he has been carrying."

"He read from a manuscript his reply to the address of the delegation. The statement continued, 'and was greatly moved as he did so. More than once his voice choked, especially when he referred to the soldier boys and the mothers of those who had fallen in battle.'"

"It was evident that he was voicing the profoundest emotions of his heart," the delegation added. "The whole occasion was unexpressibly solemn and tender."

"It was evident that the president's intellectual powers were in no way impaired," the statement continued, "but the delegation felt that it was nothing less than tragic that the great president of the United States should have been brought to such a stricken physical condition as the result of his indefatigable labor for his country and for humanity."

The delegation said they "felt that this might be the president's appeal to the conscience of his countrymen in the supreme moral decision that they are called upon to make."

WHY NOT A "VOTE BEFORE BREAKFAST" CLUB IN LA CROSSE

In view of the coming election, Tuesday, November 2, and with the eleventh hour congestion at the polls during the primary election fresh in mind, it has been suggested that the women voters of La Crosse adopt the movement, which has become popular in many cities, of forming "vote before breakfast" clubs. An accomplishment of this rule would mean an earlier return for La Crosse, as well as avert a final rush for the polls at the closing hour.

LABOR PEACE BEFORE NIGHT THE PROSPECT

Government Terms Accepted by Miners' Leaders Go to Conference; Owners Agree

MEN ACCEPT TEMPORARY INCREASE IN WAGES

National Wage Board to be Named to Effect Permanent Arrangement

LONDON.—(By the Associated Press.)—A member of the miners' executive body informed the conference of Trades Union delegates here today that there was every prospect of terms for settlement of the coal strike being reached Wednesday night.

It is reported the miners' leaders have accepted the government's terms and will submit them to a conference of the miners' delegates. The mine owners also are said to have agreed to the government proposals.

A report was current in parliamentary circles that Premier Lloyd George would announce settlement of the coal strike to the house of commons late this afternoon.

The terms, reported to have been virtually agreed upon Tuesday, were withheld from the public at the wish of the miners' executive pending the submission of the stipulations for ratification to the pending conference of the miners' delegates.

According to information gathered in conference circles the miners, under the scheme virtually approved Tuesday, will receive the increase in wages they demand as from October 1 until the end of December, by which time it is expected a national wage board which is to be established will have devised a permanent scheme.

The price of coal, under the reported settlement plan, is not to be increased to domestic consumers, but the increased wages are to be met by the revenue from the export trade, and, according to some reports, the wage scale is to rise and fall according to the revenue from that trade.

It also is reported that under the contemplated settlement the miners' executive has undertaken not to resort in future to direct action to secure the nationalization of the mines, and likewise has agreed to cooperate cordially toward the success of the new plan.

COAL OPERATORS MEET TO DISCUSS PRICE REDUCTION

Meeting in Cleveland to Consider Palmer Telegram Asking Cut

EFFORTS BEING MADE TO MAKE UP COAL SHORTAGE

Production Exceeds Twelve Million Tons a Week at Present

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Approximately 1,000 of the 7,000 soft coal operators in the United States, representing every bituminous producing district, met here Tuesday to consider the telegram sent to the association last week by Attorney General Palmer. The telegram urged that steps be taken to eliminate exorbitant prices for bituminous coal at the mines. It was the judgment of operators, both association members and others, that the soft coal operators throughout the country will co-operate fully and heartily with Attorney General Palmer in an effort to reduce coal prices.

Prices already have dropped in many places, it was declared. J. L. Hatfield of Morgantown, W. Va., a member of the Northern West Virginia fair practices committee, said in his district the price had dropped from $14 to $6 a ton in some instances, even in the brokerage market.

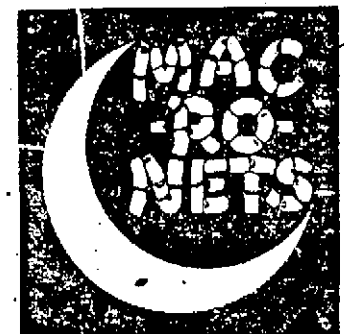

"The fair practices committee," he said, "was formed by the operators to stamp out certain practices, the bidding up of prices by brokers, for instance, which had caused the price to skyrocket. The results already are apparent."

Report Break in Prices
Another operator said that there had been a big break in prices in the Pittsburgh district. Besides prices, every angle of the coal situation, including the possibility of a shortage, the car supply and other transport questions, were thrashed out. Little danger exists of serious winter shortages, anywhere, in the opinion of operators. An exhaustive survey of the soft coal situation was made at the general conference by Colonel Wentz. He told the operators that shortages throughout the country in the supply of coal for immediate use are rapidly being made up by the accelerated movement of coal shipments by the railroads during the last few weeks. For the last three weeks, Colonel Wentz stated, soft coal production has exceeded twelve million tons a week. If this output is maintained, he said, there would be no doubt that every part of the country will have sufficient coal.

LEAGUE MOVEMENT SWEEPING NATION IS CLAIM OF COX

Churches, Labor and Women Join in Supporting Covenant Says Candidate

KENOVIA, W. Va.—Governor Cox closed his West Virginia campaign Tuesday with another appeal for the league of nations and a statement that the churches, labor and women were together in the movement which, he said, was "sweeping the country." The democratic presidential candidate called attention to statements a year ago of former President Taft which, the governor said, prophesied his present view of the situation. "I desire to pay Judge Taft a tribute," said the governor. "He possesses a gift which I did not think was his. He has the gift of prophecy. Speaking just about a year ago in West Virginia, he said that labor would endorse the league of nations because of its labor provisions; that the churches would endorse it because it is right; and then if the women were given the vote, they would all be for it because of their abhorrence of war; and in the last week it is perfectly apparent that Judge Taft correctly visualized the future. "From pulpit and congregation comes the same story of religious fervor. No class has been reading the league more industriously than labor. I found miners in the mountains of this state thoroughly familiar with it.

and the republicans are having trouble with their women's meetings—all of which bears eloquent tribute to Judge Taft's foresight. "It is sweeping the country."

CONFESSION OF ERROR

PEOPLE who have read the Esch-Cummins bill and the Congressional Record for the purpose of checking up Senator La Follette's attacks upon Senator Lenroot will not find it difficult to understand why La Follette declines to engage in a joint debate with the latter. Bald statements, of themselves truths or partial truths, but false as to their inferences, can be made without fear in the absence of the accused and of the record, but to make them to the teeth of a man armed with the official documents in which they are recorded is quite another matter. Therefore it was to have been expected that La Follette's answer to Lenroot's challenge would be a reiteration of his charges at a safe distance.

Lenroot's refusal to accept Thompson as a substitute for La Follette was equally a certainty. By all the rules of the political game and of good sportsmanship his contest with Thompson ended at the primary Sept. 5. A debate with Thompson, a stranger to the proceedings of congress, would have answered none of the purposes of a meeting with La Follette for the reason that from every corner into which he was driven by Lenroot Thompson could escape by pleading that he wasn't in congress and didn't know the facts. To have debated with Thompson would have been to restore to the dignity of opposition the man whom he had twice defeated before the jury of the Wisconsin elector-ate.

The incident will probably be accepted as a triumph for Lenroot. La Follette is the assailant, one both abusive and vindictive. Lenroot dares him to meet him face to face with the public records before them. La Follette declines. He is a great orator, by far Lenroot's superior. What is he afraid of? Not of Lenroot's ability as a debater, certainly. It must be the facts as shown by the Congressional Record of which La Follette is in such fear that he dare not meet a speaker of no more than ordinary ability in debate who has called him a falsifier before the whole state.

COX IS SHIFTING

GOVERNOR COX'S declaration Saturday that he would accept a reservation on Article X to the effect that the United States will not employ its army and navy in a league undertaking excepting upon the authority of congress may be taken as an indication that he now believes he has failed to sell Article X to the country without this reservation. The declaration may win votes for Cox, but at this time it seems improbable. It is an evidence of weakness, a sign of foreshadowed defeat, and it detracts from Cox's standing as a fighting candidate. Standing by one's guns wins American admiration, even among those who think they are not well sighted.

However Cox's declaration is not so wide a departure from his former position. No doubt it was drawn from him by Mr. Root's insistence that Cox stands with Wilson to the very punctuation of Article X. The truth is that on a former occasion Cox employed language in which he expressed the view that as it now stands Article X does not bind this country to employ its fighting forces except under the authority of congress as established by the constitution, and since that is his opinion to formulate the matter in an amendment is no great concession. Probably it will arouse more ire in the White House than interest in the country at large.

Of course the fact is that the amendment goes to the point of the practicability of the clause. Under Article X, with or without this reservation, the country would not engage in a war of such magnitude as to engage even the full peace strength of its army and navy without going to congress. But in the matter of policing, where a small force, or one or more ships were needed to keep the peace, the article as it stands leaves the executive free to act quickly, and might often by dispatch nip in the bud a breach of international peace which would become formidable by the time congressional debate on the subject had reached the stage of the retort courtesies. Indeed, the president and the war department have employed this police method with our warships and marines where critical situations affecting American interests have arisen, and with especial freedom within the limits reached by the Monroe doctrine.

The point of practicability may be illustrated by employing the analogy of the city as a unit of government. A fight occurs. Suppose the police have authority to act only upon specific authorization of the city council. If the council is not in session, it must be called together. The resolution is introduced. It is debatable. Hours may be wasted. Meanwhile the fight becomes a riot, and arson and pillage overrun the city.

People who believe in an international court without an international police force have a childlike faith in the altruism of nations. Roosevelt insisted that had Wilson peremptorily notified Germany that Uncle Sam's foot and horse were back of its signature to the treaty establishing Belgian neutrality, the war would have ended at Liege. Perhaps, although German junkerdom shook a nasty chest.

Incidentally it may be observed that the Belgian affair has a bearing on the treaty debate. Lodge and Knox have been supported by other great republicans in the declaration that, under Article X, this country would have been honor bound to war without congressional action because of this treaty commitment. If that be true we were honor bound to fight Germany by our Belgian treaty commitment the moment that country was invaded. But it took three years and a lot of assaults and bullying to get us in, and we proceeded by act of congress.

VOTERS MAY CHOOSE

OF course, when all is said and done about the party phase of the republican dispute in Wisconsin, there remains the fact that voters have as much right to vote for a socialist or a mugwump as for a republican or democrat. The individual wants primarily to know which candidates think most nearly as he thinks about government, and about the ability they possess and the honesty with which they will adhere to their promises, once elected.

If John Blaine promised to fly a kite over the state capitol, and a majority of the public wanted a kite flown over the capitol, they could and generally would vote for Blaine; and it wouldn't matter to the average voter whether the kite idea came from the Association of Commerce, the Nonpartisan league, or the Ladies' Sewing Circle. He'd want to know only that John would keep his word, and that he was able to fly the kite.

In the primary things were split up. There were several candidates, each with his own platform. Things are much simpler now. Blaine is running on the La Follette and Nonpartisan league platforms. They are alike in essentials. Colonel McCoy is running on the democratic national and state platform, and "accepts" the republican state platform on state issues. Both Blaine and McCoy are making speeches. They are telling the voters what they will do if elected. The thing for a man or woman who wants to vote as he or she thinks is to read the platforms, and what the candidates say. They may also consider the character and public service of each, because what manner of man one is, and what experience one has had, go to the question of efficiency.

MODEL AND THE ARTIST

BY DOROTHY DOUGLAS

Jimmy Gilmore idled into the small, interesting-looking tearoom more because he had nothing to do than for any terrific thirst he had for black coffee.

However, having arrived inside the quaint little orange-colored door, he felt glad. There was a decided sense of atmosphere about the small, tastefully arranged tearoom and, as he sank into a corner, built for two, Jimmy was conscious of a longing for the other of that two. But, alas! he was only one, and a desperately lonesome one at that. Jimmy's entire flock of best girls was scattered.

After he had ordered his black coffee and cinnamon toast he slumped down into his chair in an effort to find greater comfort for long legs. One of those long legs shuffled something along the floor and Jimmy peered under the table to see what it was.

It proved to be a photograph, ready for mailing but badly, very badly, done up. The string was slipping off and the cardboard protection was in a decided way of escaping its duty. Jimmy supposed a woman had lied it up.

It was addressed to a man in Chicago and in the corner the sender's name was given as Fay McBane, with an address that Jimmy knew to be only a block or two from the tearoom. Apparently Miss McBane had been out to post the photograph and had dropped it in the tearoom rather than in the mail box.

Jimmy let slip the string that was already but a frail binding. He wanted to see what Fay looked like. Had the photograph been so well wrapped he would have dropped it in the first box. As it was, he decided swiftly that, since he was not near string, pen and ink or anything that would make a scandalous package he would just pop around the corner and return the photograph to the sender—that is, if he in any way fancied the face within.

The face was beautiful but with a boldness of outline that did not appeal to Jimmy as being of the best-girl type. She would be delightful to take out to dances and dinner just for the pleasure of gazing upon her, but for the heart and home Jimmy wanted a softer, gentler, less earthly model.

However, he decided upon trying to see the original, and after finishing his coffee he started out to try his luck.

There was a hot day in August and when Jimmy discovered that Miss McBane lived on the fourth floor of the building and that there was no elevator he decided to try his luck another way. He was not a climber, but as the mail box was not large enough to hold the photograph he took a deep breath and began mounting the stairs.

After reaching the top Jimmy thrust out the photograph in view so that whoever might open the door would see the reason for his errand and not take him for a magazine agent and close the door in his hot face.

The girl who opened it was neither the girl of the photograph nor did she in any way resemble her. She was not pretty; she was not bold, nor was she anything that Jimmy had expected to see. Miss McBane was not a girl, but a woman, and she was not the girl of the photograph, the big apron, the dabs of paint on a piquant, interesting little face and the casual, canvases and drapery strewn about the place.

When she found out the reason for his being there she very sweetly invited the tired, hot Jimmy into her studio and let him sit in the cool window seat. He liked her the moment he looked into her wide, unfathomable eyes. Jimmy particularly disliked dirty eyes, especially in a best girl, and this Fay McBane was without doubt of the best girl model. He could easily, even on this scant acquaintance, picture her feet on the home tender and her slim hands serving the evening meal and pouring the breakfast coffee.

"That is one of my models," she was saying. "I was sending it out to the author to see if the type was suitable for the illustrations of her latest novel. It was most kind of you to bring it. I fancied I had dropped it in the mail box."

"Male hands instead," laughed Jimmy. "The quaint little face of the artist lent itself beautifully to smiling."

"And I was a bit lonesome," he confessed. "I suppose you expected to see the original?" said Fay with a short laugh. "I'm sorry she is not here just now—she may drop in later."

"She is a big, goodhearted girl and far more lovely to look at than her picture indicated."

"Far more lovely to look at than to talk to also, I suppose," Jimmy suggested and found himself just a trifle annoyed that Miss McBane was so willing to praise this other girl. "I suppose you never have many hours to idle," he said, gazing about the well-worked canvases.

"No, I have had so much illustrating to do lately that I don't even have

WHY POLITICS AFFECTS YOUR HOME

BY MAUD WOOD PARK
(Chairman National League of Women Voters)

Madam, Who Runs Your House?

Now that women have the ballot they have the means of really protecting their homes.

City government has a vital effect on the home. City government is, for its citizens, government in its most concrete form. The state delegates much of its power to large cities. Cities are complete political entities, acting by right of city charters granted by the state.

The government of the city is that part of all government lying immediately around the home. City regulation pronounces your child born, and city ordinance declares him dead.

City government has to do with the quality of the water your family drinks, the food it eats, the education your children obtain, the streets through which they pass, the transportation they use, the fire protection you have when your home burns, the hospital your child is taken to if he is run over, and the cemetery in which he is buried when he dies.

The mayor or commissioners as executive, the alderman or city council as legislative, the board of estimate and apportionment as financial agents of city government are the invisible predestinators of your home.

Through these various agencies is rendered adequate by building restrictions. Through these contagious diseases is kept away from your children. Through these a pound of sugar is compelled to be a pound of sugar. Through these infections and impurities are kept out of the meat served at your table.

The butcher, the grocer, the doctor, the minister, the lawyer, the undertaker, the thief, the policeman—all bring the city government into your home. The parks, the museums, the bridges and the 'movies' in your town—all feel the power of the city.

For governmental service in the home you pay direct taxes on your real estate and other property. Does the money you spend for city service bring you adequate return?

You draw in the government with every breath. You cannot exist without city or town government any more than you can live without water. True citizenship consists in not allowing the government to exist without you.

time to cook my meals and I just love to cook," lamented Fay. "I have to use my energy for painting rather than cooking so I am compelled to go into that little tea room for nearly every meal."

"Oh, said Jimmy. "A slight flush crept across Fay's cheeks. Hurriedly she made an attempt to cover up the apparent lead she had given him. "Really, I should be only too glad to bring in Doris or any of my lovely models and introduce them to you—that is, if you want to know them."

Jimmy was silent for a long moment, then he decided to say just exactly what was uppermost in his mind, even if Fay McBane was an almost perfect stranger.

"No, I don't want to know any of them—they would be only third best girls. I know some girls that I have always considered best girls, but now I realize there can only be one best; the others will be seconds. I don't want to know the thirds, nor the seconds, but I do very much want to know the best—the very best girl."

"You have an idea, then, who the best girl is?" asked Fay, with a twinkle behind the wide eyes.

"A slight idea," said Jimmy. "I wonder if I could do up that photograph for her—could I?"

Fay looked back seriously at Jimmy Gilmore and told him, boyish and frank and clear of glance—the kind of man a girl, even an artist, independent-bachelor girl, finds worth while, and her aim is to reach his destination," she told him, and Jimmy knew that the best girl had entered upon his horizon to stay.

PROBE OF MARINE AFFAIRS IN HAITI OPENS AT CAPITAL

Former Commander First to Testify in Investigation Asked by Daniels

CORRECTS NAVY ANNOUNCEMENT AS TO NATIVE CASUALTIES

Was Shocked at Conditions in Haiti, Declares Barnett

WASHINGTON.—Natives killed in Haiti during the 5 years of American occupation numbered 2,250, instead of 3,250 as previously announced by the navy department. It was disclosed at the opening public session Wednesday of the naval court of inquiry, recently appointed by Secretary Daniels to investigate the conduct of the marines in the island republic.

Brigadier General Barnett, former commander of the corps, the first witness before the court, testified that a mistake in addition has led to the erroneous announcement. Major Edmund R. McCallahan, attached to the casualty record office of the corps, testified that only a very few of the natives killed had not fallen in action with the marines or the gendarmes.

Brigadier General Barnett declared he was "terribly shocked" by conditions in Haiti as disclosed at the trials of Privates Walter E. Johnson and John J. McQuillan, Jr., of the marine corps, last year. The conclusion he had reached after reading the records in these cases, he testified, was that there existed "a state of mind" which might have made it possible for "anyone to be killed."

Questioned by Major Jesse F. Carter, judge advocate of the court, General Barnett said that he had no knowledge of any unlawful killings in Haiti except those related to the trial of the two privates. He explained that when he wrote to Colonel John H. Russell, brigade commander in Haiti, that it appeared that "indiscriminate killings" had gone on for some time, he did not mean "promiscuous killings," but killing "without judgment," he added.

OPPOSITIONS APPEAL TO RACIAL HATRED IS CHARGE OF COX

Arraying Class Against Class in Attempt to Beat Him Says Democratic Candidate

ATLANTA, Ga.—In a letter to Frank L. Stanton, Jr., of Atlanta, made here today, Gov. Cox, democratic presidential nominee, charged of, terms were being made to "arouse racial hatred" to defeat him.

"We are making this campaign," said Governor Cox's letter, "for peace, for progress and for prosperity. An attempt has been made by your opponents to distract from the issue by setting up racial groups, each with a selfish purpose. To each of these groups something has been promised. Nor has there been any consideration about conflict in promises that have been made."

"None of those who have been against America in the last four years is going to vote for me. To my mind the most serious of all things presented is the attempt to arouse racial hatred. Promises have been made to the Afro-American party which I do not believe the promises have any intention of carrying out."

"There are some classes of social equality which cannot be. To quote the words of the immortal Lincoln, 'We do not want the negroes to be slaves, but that does not mean that we want negro women for our wives.' I know no better way to express the evils in the attempt to array class against class in America."

CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS ENLIST IN SUPPORT OF LEGION FESTIVAL

All Lining Up to Make Armistice Day Observance Record-Breaking Event

Celebration of Armistice Day by a mass decoration ceremony of La Crosse county service men with the Victory Medal is rapidly taking shape as one of the most important community events in recent years. Commander William C. Strehl of Shuman Post of the Legion said today that the influential civic bodies of the county have already lined up behind the Legion to make the day a notable one, and many assurances of support have been received.

Organizations that have promised, through their officers, backing and assistance in the big day include the Grand Army of the Republic, the Sons of Veterans, the Service Star Legion, the auxiliaries of the Sons of Veterans, the Citizens' Co-operative League, the Elks, the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and the Community council. Several businessmen have already signified their intention of giving their employees a half-day holiday on the afternoon of November 11, and it is expected that the question of a general observance of the occasion will be taken up by the commercial organizations officially.

A meeting of officers of the civic organizations called in the week of the office of Capt. R. F. H. Schultz, Shuman Post adjutant, 255 Main street at which plans for the participation of the organizations will be made.

Commander Strehl said today that invitations to all of the Legion posts in the county, and to all ex-service men, are being made. He said that the Legion is planning to have a parade on the day, and that the parade will be held in the city, and that the parade will be held in the city, and that the parade will be held in the city.

POLITICAL OUTLOOK GOOD IN DISTRICT, SAYS R. G. KNUTSON

Candidate for Senate in 32nd District Optimistic; Makes Flying Visit to Towns

R. G. Knutson, organizer of the Trades and Labor Council and candidate for the state senate in the Thirty-second district, has been campaigning in the northern part of the district, where his contest against E. P. Clarke of Galesville, has been waxing warm.

"The situation looks better today than it has at any time in the campaign," said Mr. Knutson today. "There is much enthusiasm being shown for an independent candidate. Yesterday while going the rounds in the district I found stalwart republicans from Galesville traveling just ahead of my party and stamping for the democrats. That is how hard they are working to beat me."

A number of Knutson cards nailed to poles along the road had been torn down and left at the foot of the poles. Knutson visited Holmen, Galesville, Frenchville, Durick, Blair, Whitehall, Independence, Arcadia and Centerville yesterday. He plans to speak in Blair, Whitehall, Independence and Arcadia this week.

Likewise, the business men were agreed that the county is fortunate in having such an efficient official in her so responsible a position. In her quiet, unassuming way Miss Burkhardt talked to the Kiwanians and her sincere appeal for assistance and backing in her work did not go astray for the club went on record as endorsing her suggestions for improvements, and will take steps to help bring about improvements that will tend to serve La Crosse county's greater good.

PROHIBITION HERE TO STAY DECLARES TEMPERANCE TALKER

Growing Sentiment in Favor of Dry Country is Seen by the Georgia Cyclone

That prohibition has come to stay and citizens of this country appreciate the benefits which the ban on liquor traffic has brought to the people of this country, was the declaration of Mary Harris Armour, in a temperance talk at the First Congregational church last night.

Mrs. Armour, or Mary Harris, as she is familiarly known on the platform, is an eloquent, forceful, logical speaker of great magnetic power. Sometimes called the "Georgia Cyclone," she holds her audience spellbound with her eloquence and delivers what, after shafts against the liquor evil with lightning-like rapidity.

LANGER ATTACKS N-P SOCIALISM IN MADISON SPEECH

North Dakota Progressive Speaks With Morgan Against Townleyism

MADISON, Wis.—Harding the challenge of "crooks, revolutionary rebels, swindlers," at a meeting marked by sensational charges against the league, William J. Morgan, republican candidate for attorney general in Wisconsin, and William Langer, attorney general of North Dakota, addressed a meeting of more than 500 in the high school auditorium Monday night.

Langer, a former legislator, high in the directing councils of the organization, twice elected on a league ticket, who finally broke with A. C. Townley, socialist head of the organization, opened the meeting.

For two hours he presented evidence charging the leaders of the national league with abuses and criminal mismanagement.

Many Farmers Present

Burners from all over the country were present. Cambridge sent down a special delegation of farmers to the Morgan and Langer to address them in Cambridge. A meeting will be arranged for that city next Monday night. Morgan was urged to come to Stoughton by visitors from the club city.

Langer took the floor first.

"There is a law in North Dakota which is called the anti-trust law," Langer declared. "Under this law should I make any misstatement I am liable to prison for one year."

"And this he repeated as he hurled excessive charges of 'graft, swindling and crookedness, by imported socialists, bank wreckers, literary state bankers and A. C. Townley."

Lying on the small desk on the platform was a black leather handbag. To this Langer would point in his charges of bank wrecking, mismanagement of justice in courts and absolute control of legislative powers of state to a point where thousands of jobs could be created over night, and declare:

"If what I say is not true I am liable to the penitentiary for one year, and I have been saying this for months and I am still not in the penitentiary."

"Why, for right here in this bag I have the proof. Proof of their splitting the swag—proof in canceled checks right here I've got it on them and they know it."

Predator N-P Defeat

Langer was defeated for governor by the league candidate who ran for reelection by less than 5,000 votes at the September primary. He is the author of a book on the league which contains all his statements made last night and more.

OHIO STATE IS POLITICAL STAMPING GROUND OF PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES IN FINAL EFFORT OF THE CAMPAIGN

MARION, Ohio.—The league of nations, tariff protection, Americanism and constitutional government are expected to be headlines among the issues discussed by Senator Harding on his final campaign swing through Ohio, beginning Wednesday and ending Saturday night with a speech in Columbus.

In addition the republican candidate will sum up for the voters of his own state the detailed platform which he has laid down during the campaign and on which he is asking for a national republican victory at next week's election.

Leaving Marion shortly after noon, the senator's train is due in Cleveland in time to permit him to take dinner at a downtown hotel before his night address in Gray's armory here.

Cox Among Home Folks

MIDDLETON, Ohio.—Home folks Wednesday were the objects of campaigning by Governor Cox of Ohio.

In North Dakota has been reduced from 80,000 in 1915 to less than 5,000 in 1920, Langer predicted that they would be swept out of office in the election next Tuesday.

It came all the way from North Dakota as a progressive republican. Attorney General Langer said, "To talk for William J. Morgan, I read of his single handed fight. And because as attorney general of North Dakota I know how important it is that a real progressive should be in that office, not a loop nosed Townley henchman, I came down and urge upon you to vote and support Morgan, as the republican candidate for attorney general."

They talk about holding Harding yes, yet Praizer, governor of North Dakota, talked all last week for the league candidate in Montana, a democrat, and the same in Denver, a democrat. This bunch is not republican, but socialist opportunists."

Women Attend Meet

Morgan started his speech after 10 o'clock. Speaking somewhat slower than had Langer, the candidate for attorney general discussed state issues, assured his hearers that if elected he would prosecute profiteers and warned the large crowd that "to make the republican ticket straight you have to split it."

GANZEL MEETINGS AT RESCUE MISSION DRAWING CROWDS

The attendance and interest is increasing in the meetings being held by Evangelist Joseph Ganzel of Racine and ex-professional baseball player.

Last night he spoke on the "Lost Coin," and said in part:

"The image on the coin represented the face value, just so, Jesus the invisible image of God must be stamped on the hearts of men or they are eternally lost."

The Christian must represent God upon earth. "Paul said, 'Know Ye not that Ye are the temple of the

Here, where he was born and spent his boyhood days, and later today at Dayton, his residence, the democratic presidential candidate brought his candidacy and his pleas for the league of nations and other campaign doctrines.

Local committees here and also at Dayton, had made unusual preparations for the candidate's home efforts. Buildings were decorated with flags and lithographs of "Our Jimmy" and his running mate, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and large reception committees, with brass bands, appeared. Many relatives of the candidate, including his father, Gilbert Cox of Eaton, a nearby village, were invited as special guests of honor.

Governor Cox's schedule called for a three hours' visit here, from 9:30 to 12:30.

He motored from here to "Trail's End," where he will rest until he goes to Dayton, where he speaks tonight.

Holy Ghost and commands us not to defile the temple."

Again Paul said: "Present your bodies a living sacrifice, and be not conformed to the world. Our Salvation will be complete when Jesus comes."

At the close to the service Mr. Ganzel gave an altar call and one unsaved came out for God.

The subject for the Evangelist's talk tonight will be "Power."

NEW YORK.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., resigned as a member of the finance committee of the democratic national committee to support the republican ticket through a campaign contribution.

FORD TOURING CAR STOLEN FROM GARAGE IN NORTH LA CROSSE

Nels Lund Loses Auto from His Shed; Believed to be Work of Youngsters

A Ford touring car of the 1913 variety, belonging to Nels Lund, 1342 Charles street, was stolen from his garage some time between Sunday night and Tuesday, according to the report of the owner at the police station this morning.

Lund stated that he had not missed the car from the garage because Sunday was the only day that he had taken it out, and was not aware of the theft until Tuesday, when the door of the garage was found open.

The police interpretation of the theft is that it is the work of some youngsters in the neighborhood. A description of the car is in the hands of the police and a search for the missing auto has been started.

MEXICO CITY.—A general strike prevails in Puebla, the second industrial city of the republic.

ONLY QUESTION NOW IS HOW LARGE THE REPUBLICAN MAJORITIES WILL BE IN CLAIM OF WESTERN MANAGER OF G. O. P.

CHICAGO.—The political situation in the middle west, now settled into its final form, indicates republican majorities "so enormous that one hesitates even to mention them," according to John T. Adams, vice chairman of the republican national committee in charge of western headquarters who Wednesday gave out the following review of campaign conditions.

Minnesota will go for Harding, by a very large majority, undoubtedly above 100,000. As a national organization the democratic party in Minnesota has almost ceased to exist.

"In Nebraska the democratic organization is moribund. The republican majority in that state will be unusually large, at least 50,000.

"In Iowa, the republicans will win by over 100,000. Senator Cummins will pull through but he will run considerably behind the national ticket.

"In Wisconsin the certainty of an enormous majority for Harding has taken the life out of the national campaign. The governorship is in doubt.

"In Illinois the Harding and Coolidge majority is problematical. It may be around 250,000. I expect to see Mr. Small win over Colonel Lewis.

"Indiana is expected by the closest figures to go for Harding by 55,000 or 60,000.

"In Michigan, Harding is safe and sure, by a majority of more than 100,000.

"Missouri will go republican by more than 40,000.

"North and South Dakota will show a vote about three to two in favor of Harding and Coolidge.

"The national democratic ticket has been given up as hopeless, and Mr. Cox is being traded off for state candidates."

Airplanes to Hunt Bandits

The Chinese government is about to make an effort to combat the activities of bandits and smugglers by the use of airplanes from which these persons will be observed and hunted. It is also proposed to transport precious ores and stones in this manner.

BOLIVIA REVOLT MOVEMENT HAS BUT SHORT LIFE

BUENOS AIRES.—A brief, but unsuccessful, revolution broke out in Bolivia, according to advices Tuesday. The movement was suppressed and twenty-seven of its ring-leaders were executed. A censorship has been imposed by the Bolivian authorities.

Lima Denies It

LIMA.—Reports of a revolution in Bolivia were denied by the Bolivian legation Tuesday, legation officials asserting the rumors probably were caused by a street demonstration provoked by an army officer. Major Quintanilla, for political purposes, Major Quintanilla will be court-martialed, the officials said.

GREAT OLD PLAY GIVEN A WELCOME AT LOCAL THEATER

"The Old Homestead" Gets Enthusiastic Reception on First of Two-Nights' Engagement

As refreshing as a summer breeze and as wholesome as a good old-fashioned Sunday dinner was the presentation of the old-time favorite "The Old Homestead" at the La Crosse theater Tuesday night. Given an enthusiastic reception by the audience last night, the second performance tonight is bound to draw a big house. Those who attended the show last night are today telling their friends what a splendid production they viewed. In the language of the street "The Old Homestead" came back last night "with bells on." In the audience were many of the most prominent citizens of La Crosse, persons who for years have patronized only the best shows, and that they enjoyed to the utmost the revival of this fine play was indicated by frequent outbursts of applause and laughter which marked the action of the four acts.

A splendid cast has been selected by Augustus Pitou Inc. for the revival of "The Old Homestead." William Lawrence in the role of Joshua Whitcomb, the kind-hearted old farmer who furnishes most of the heart throbs and comedy in the play, gives a wonderful characterization, and his support is all that could be desired. Charles Carter as Cy Prime and Oscar Sidney as Seth Perkins are fine types of rural characters, presenting one sketch in the last act which is a scream.

Then there is a double male quartet which sings the old songs in thrilling style, with a volume of harmony filling the house and calling for encore after encore; also the "Swanzy band" a famous musical organization furnishing head-line comedy in the final act.

The scenic effects are beautiful and most realistic. The wood-box is filled with real wood. Joshua winds the clock and sets the mousetrap before going to bed, and every little detail of a well-conducted, old-fashioned farm-house is there, even the well and old oaken bucket.

Entertaining happy recollections of an evening well spent, the writer is moved to assert this morning that after all, the old shows are the ones that linger longest in memory.

GERMANS VISIT ROME
LONDON.—The first German pilgrimage to visit Rome since the outbreak of the war in 1914 arrived on Tuesday, according to a Rome dispatch. It was headed by Monsignor Schulte, archbishop of Cologne.

RIVIERA
There is not a dull moment in "The Blood Barrier" that is the feature on the Riviera program today. The story opens with Sylvia Breamer, the star of the picture, struggling with a man and then falling down and embarking. The man turns out to be the girl's husband. He's so jealous that he might be the green-eyed monster himself. From the opening scene till the climax the picture keeps you on pins and needles.

The plot alone does not concern itself with the wife and jealous husband. There is another man and a murder is committed. Not a small part of one's interest is centered on the tireless effort of two spies to get from the other man, played by Robert Gordon, some dye formulas he secured from Germany during the war and was about to turn over to the U. S. Government. The action of the picture takes place in a large city.

The cast includes, besides Miss Breamer, Robert Gordon, William Dunn, Marguerite Dean, and Louis Barry. The balance of the program includes a Gaiety Comedy entitled "Money" with George Ovey, the Obrecht Sisters Orchestra, and scenic.

MAJESTIC
"Humoresque" is still attracting the crowds at the Majestic, where it is showing for the balance of the week.

Fannie Hurst, who is noted for her realistic studies in Jewish life, never struck a more intensely human note than she attained in "Humoresque." The scenes are taken in New York's famous lower East Side and the central character is a youngster with a soul for music. Receiving his first violin from his mother on his seventh birthday, the boy later develops into a world known genius. Then the war comes and he returns from overseas with a wounded shoulder that, it is thought, will prevent him from ever playing again. But in the great crisis of his life the injured is restored to strength and his happiness returns.

While Alma Rubens is supposed to be the featured player, Vera Gordon, as the mother, runs away with all the honors.—Gaston Glass and Dore Davidson are also included in the cast.

CASINO
"Under Crimson Skies" was presented to a local audience for the first time yesterday at the Casino theater. It is taken from an original story by J. G. Hawks and breathes of the same atmosphere of adventure that is found in Jack London's stories. There is a certain romance of the high seas that appeals to everyone, whether he lives on the coast or dwells in the interior and the author has touched upon every phase of marine adventure from gun-running to battling violent storms.

Elmo Lincoln, the colossus of the screen, is the virile captain, and he is well supported by Harry Van Meter as the gun-runner, Mabel Ballin and Little Nancy Caswell as the wife and child, Paul Weigel as the first mate, and Frank Brownlee as the ringleader of the crew.

There is plenty of action in the picture, which includes a fight between two giants, Elmo Lincoln and Noble Johnson, and just enough romance and love interest to make it a wholly delightful photoplay.

BIJOU
Enid Bennett has another of those wistful young wife roles which she made popular in "Stepping Out" in her latest picture, "Halpines," at the Bijou today and tomorrow. It is an appealing story of a household drudge who took a lesson from her husband's stenographer and blossomed out as a drawing room favorite. Matt Moore is leading man.

DEMANDS RESTORATION OF GERMAN MONARCHY
BERLIN.—Dr. Karl Helfferich, former vice chancellor during the imperial regime, was vigorously applauded Tuesday when he asserted the necessity of re-establishing the monarchy, during an address before the nationalist congress.

RIVOLI
Becoming a butler in one's own household in order to cure your wife of snobbishness is going pretty far, but it works out effectively and results in much good humor in Thomas Meighan's new starring vehicle, "Civilian Clothes" which is playing the Rivoli.

The picture was adapted from the stage success by Thompson Buchanan of the same name. Mr. Meighan's role resembles, in some ways the one he played in "Male and Female." In that picture, also, Mr. Meighan was a butler and inculcated some democratic ideas into a group of aristocrats.

"Civilian Clothes" is the story of a U. S. army captain who marries a young society girl in France. She is in love with the uniform more than with the man that wears it. Consequently when, after she has believed him killed in action, he returns to America and calls upon her in ill-fitting "civies," she cannot conceal her disgust for him. Thereupon, he sets out to teach her a much needed lesson and succeeds beyond his fondest hopes. Martha Mansfield is the charming heroine, and the picture, which is a Paramount, can be put in the excellent class.

MARKET REACTIONARY

Practically the entire list shows a downward reaction. The stock market today became distinctly reactionary with progress of the session virtually the entire list yielding to the broad offering of the west of steel were especially vulnerable, reacting one to almost three points and equipments, motor oil, chemical and paper shares reacted one to two points. Tobacco and Rubber issues joined the recession, and also in vestment rails, the latter, however, in moderate degrees.

Junior rails Wisconsin Central was conspicuous for its five point loss. The 9 per cent opening rate for money contributed to the market's reversal.

The British exchange continued its strength.

United States Steel was the outstanding feature at the opening of today's stock market. The stock of today's steel was down 1 1/2 points to 88 1/2, representing an extreme decline of 1 1/2 points. This was attributed to disappointing news of the steel industry at the failure of the steel directors to declare an extra dividend on the common stock. The independent steel companies, however, were higher by fractions to a point. Exchange on London was firm, probably in anticipation of a possible British industrial conditions.

Investment rails and oils hardened their prices. Savings bonds broke five points on suspension of the dividend. The closing was heavy.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE AT TEMPLE BY REV. GRAHAM

Member of Board of Lectureship
Discusses Creed as "Voice in Wilderness"

"Christian Science: The Voice in the Wilderness," was the subject of a lecture on Christian Science delivered at Masonic temple last night under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, of La Crosse. The speaker was Rev. Andrew J. Graham, C. S. B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Rev. Graham said in part:

Death
"I am going to discuss here briefly a phase of error which is the gravest impostor of the whole brood of evils. It claims to hold all men in a fatal grip from which there is no escape. Mortal mind names this impostor death, and while men flee from it and seek to avoid it, yet they are apt to admit and declare that finally they must submit and that death becomes the master of life and the master of man. This is the supreme lie; because it is the greatest pretension that ever was made. For after all death is nothing but a shadow. The Psalmist calls it the shadow of death. That is, the shadow, the shade, the supposition, that is called death. That it is only a shadow is proved by the words of Christ Jesus: 'He that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live; and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die'—shall never see death. When man awakens one hundred per cent to spiritual truth he can no more pass through the experience called dying than could God. To this wonderful fact St. Paul alludes in First Corinthians wherein he writes: 'We shall not all sleep'—the literal translation of which is 'we shall not all die.' Now Christian Science teaches that man has the right to be immune from this physical episode called death. The first effect of Christian Science treatment or enlightenment is to begin to destroy fear in human thought. As the Christian Science Truth unfolds to one he thinks more and more about life and less and less about death. That is, death is dying daily in his consciousness. Let us here employ a simple illustration. Grant for the sake of brevity that there are five so-called causes, any one of which may produce death. Let us say these causes are, tuberculosis, anger, liver trouble, drunkenness and cancer. Suppose now, as often happens, that a man is healed of tuberculosis, that means that one of the five causes of death is destroyed; in other words that twenty per cent of death is dead. Then let him be healed of the vicious habit of anger and another of the so-called causes is eliminated. That means that forty per cent of death is destroyed. This progressive destruction of death is what is taking place in the consciousness of each active, loving Christian Scientist; and on this plane of existence he may destroy so much of the death thought that if the change called death does come he may have scarce any fear at all in connection with it and it may be as painless an operation as the laying off of a worn-out garment.

"Who shall say how much of the death thought was destroyed by the gentle and loving Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, before she passed on? The testimony of those who long were closely associated with her shows to what remarkable degree in the case of Mrs. Eddy Mind had dominated, destroyed matter, so that with her, as in the case of St. Stephen, Spirit broke through the veil of flesh, proving the nothingness of death and the aliveness of Life.

The World-Wide Problem
"No religious teacher can consistently remain silent concerning the universal social and business unrest prevailing throughout the world today. During the last fifty years distance and time have been destroyed to such an extent by inventions and discoveries, that the peoples of the earth are now one family for weal or for woe. A discordant nation in any quarter of the globe becomes a problem which all other nations must help to heal, or suffer inevitable consequences. The whole world at the present time is in just this condition. The great homicidal war in which the peoples of the earth, recently have been engaged, has thrown into view this illuminating fact that the nations of the earth can no longer dwell apart as separate entities. God is the one Father and all His children are included in His family. The loving recognition of this fundamental fact is the only solution for the world's problem.

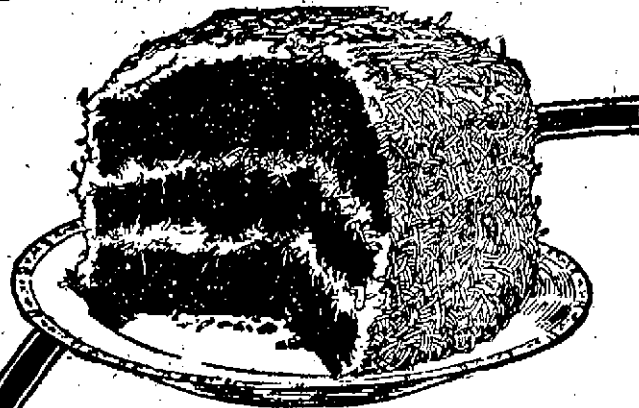

"Some one people must be first in setting an unselfish example rising above the greed of territory and coin, patiently and irresistibly drawing to its own ideals the other nations of the earth. Opportunity is waiting at the door and we have good hope that the Anglo-Saxon nations, notwithstanding their internal difficulties, will prove to be the rallying point for a disunited world-wide family. This hope is the more radiant because among this people the modern Star of Bethlehem arose. Here Christian Scientists, clear in thought, patient in love and calm in endeavor, are influencing and molding the national thought. With unerring prophetic instinct Mary Baker Eddy has written concerning distressing times, in these words: "those who discern Christian Science will hold crime in check." (Science and Health, Page 97). Christian Science thought is doing this very thing today. The learners and doers of Christian Science, unlike their ancestors of the elder dispensation, when trouble comes, do not sit down by the waters of Babylon and weep, nor do they hang their harps upon the trees therein, but singing and making melody in their hearts they look to the ever present Christ as they sing, in the words of our leader:

"I will listen for Thy voice, Least my footsteps stray: I will follow and rejoice All the rugged way." (Mary Baker Eddy, Poems, pg. 14.)

There are at least five libraries containing 1,000,000 volumes.
